

Day Training

How It Works

First, we will meet with you and your dog during an initial evaluation to determine your training goals. Afterwards, we will put together a customized training plan that addresses your training goals.

Then several times each week, you will drop your dog off at our studio where our professional trainer will execute your personal plan with several training sessions throughout the day. Each session is conducted in a safe, secure environment using only the most progressive, ethical, and humane positive reinforcement techniques as well as lots of personal attention and praise.

Transfer Sessions

Once a week, we will meet with you and your dog to show you what they have learned. At that time, we will explain the cues and transfer them over to you so that you can continue to maintain those skills at home with your dog.

Follow-Up Support

After your dog's day training program is complete, we will schedule several follow-up support sessions to help ensure your long-term success. During these sessions, which are included in your day training package, we will answer any questions you have and address any problems that may have cropped up.

Because day training is fully customized to the needs of you and your dog, the length of training and the cost will be determined during your initial evaluation.